

Region III West Wellness Council Community Resource Directory

The directory serves as a resource for wellness programs and opportunities operating in the Southwest Region of Virginia as well as national websites and hotline numbers. Counties represented include Tazewell, Russell, Buchanan, Dickenson, Washington, Bland, Smyth, Wythe, Grayson, Carroll, Lee, Scott and Wise as well as the cities of Bristol, Galax and Norton.

The Region III West Wellness Council recognizes that in order to implement and operate effective wellness strategies to bring about positive change in a community, the process must be governed and operated by Substance Abuse and Mental Health Administrations,(SAMSHA), Strategic Prevention Framework (SPF).

The SPF uses a five-step planning process to guide states, jurisdictions, tribes, and communities in the selection, implementation, and evaluation of effective, culturally appropriate, and sustainable prevention activities.

The SPF process:

- Promotes youth development
- Reduces risk-taking behaviors
- Builds assets and resilience
- Prevents problem behaviors across the life span of the programs

HelpStopSuicide.com

Our Community...Our Responsibility

The idea behind the SPF is to use findings from public health research along with evidence-based prevention programs to build capacity and sustainable prevention. This, in turn, promotes resilience and decreases risk factors in individuals, families, and communities.

SPF steps require states, territories, federally recognized tribes and tribal organizations, and communities to systematically:

- Assess their prevention needs based on epidemiological data
- Build their prevention capacity
- Develop a strategic plan
- Implement effective community prevention programs, policies, and practices
- Evaluate their efforts for outcomes

Prevention strategies have been categorized in a variety of different ways. SAMHSA/ CSAP promotes the following six strategies:

- Community-Based Process - This strategy aims to enhance the ability of the community to more effectively provide prevention and treatment services for substance abuse disorders. Activities in this strategy include organizing, planning, enhancing efficiency and effectiveness of services implementation, interagency collaboration, coalition building, and networking .
- Environmental - This strategy establishes or changes written and unwritten community standards, codes, and attitudes, thereby influencing incidence and prevalence of substance abuse in the general population. This strategy is divided into two subcategories to permit distinction between activities that center on legal and regulatory initiatives and those that relate to the service and action-oriented initiatives.
- Information Dissemination - This strategy provides awareness and knowledge of the nature and extent of substance use, abuse, and addiction and their effects on individuals, families, and communities. It also provides knowledge and awareness of available prevention programs and services. Information dissemination is characterized by one-way communication from the source to the audience, with limited contact between the two.
- Education - This strategy involves two-way communication and is distinguished from the information dissemination strategy by the fact that interaction between the educator/ facilitator and the participants is the basis of its activities. Activities under this strategy aim to affect critical life and social skills, including decision-making, refusal skills, critical analysis

(e.g., of media messages), and systematic judgment abilities.

- Alternatives - This strategy provides for the participation of target populations in activities that exclude substance use. The assumption is that constructive and healthy activities offset the attraction to—or otherwise meet the needs usually filled by—alcohol and drugs and would, therefore, minimize or obviate resort to the latter.
- Problem identification and referral - This strategy aims at identification of those who have indulged in illegal/age-inappropriate use of tobacco or alcohol and those individuals who have indulged in the first use of illicit drugs in order to assess if their behavior can be reversed through education. It should be noted, however, that this strategy does not include any activity designed to determine if a person is in need of treatment.

The K.I.D.S. (Kids in Divorce and Separation) Program is a 4-hour educational program for parents designed to specifically address the relationships between conflict, divorce and child adjustment to the changes custody brings about. The program is based on research in the areas of conflict and child adjustment and critical reviews of several existing programs available to separated/divorced families. The program is delivered in a small group format in one 4-hour session.

Resources for Suicide Survivors and Families and Friends Affected by Suicide

Grief Share

Grief Share is a friendly, caring group of people who will walk alongside you through one of life's most difficult experiences. You don't have to go through the grieving process alone. GriefShare seminars and support groups are led by people who understand what you are going through and want to help. You'll gain access to valuable GriefShare resources to help you recover from your loss and look forward to rebuilding your life.

<http://www.griefshare.org/>

Web Healing

Web Healing, the internet's first interactive grief website, has served the bereaved on the net since 1995. It offers grief discussion boards where men and women can discuss issues related to grief and healing or browse recommended grief books. The site's originator, Tom Golden, LCSW, is an internationally known psychotherapist, author, and speaker on the topic of healing from loss. <http://www.webhealing.com/>

Compassionate Friends

Whether your family has had a child die (at any age, from any cause), or you are trying to help those who have gone through this life-altering experience, The Compassionate Friends exists to provide friendship, understanding, and hope to those going through the natural grieving process. Through a network of more than 625 chapters with locations in all fifty states, as well as Washington D.C. and Puerto Rico, The Compassionate Friends has been supporting bereaved families after the death of a child for four decades. 1-877-969-0010
